FLED TO MANILA

AND WILL BE DISMANTLED

Heavy Cruiser Squadron of the Russian Fleet Seeks Protection in a Neutral Port

Manila, June 5.—Rear Admiral Enquist, commander of the heavy cruiser squadron of the Russian fleet, arrived in the Bay Saturday night on board his flagship Aurora, accompanied by the protected cruisers Olga and Jemtebug. All the vessels were much damaged, and many wounded were on board. U. S. Admiral Train, on board the flagship battleship Ohio with the Wisconsin, Oregon, Blenheim and Cincinnati, escorted them. The Russians will be dismantled by the Americans. Deaths and other casualties were heavy on the fugitive ships.

SUGGESTED PEACE.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—A message from all the great powers, and the suggestive of peace has been received from the Russian government, with two exceptions and himself are in favor of peace.

ROJESTVENSKY A PRISONER.

The Japanese legation at Washington today has published the following report from Tokyo:

"It is officially announced that in the last naval battle the damage sustained by our fleet was very slight, and none of our battleships, cruisers, destroyers, or other ships were lost, except three torpedo boats."

"Under imperial command, Admiral Togo was authorized to permit Nedogoff to submit to the press the reports on the last battle and a list of Russian killed, wounded and prisoners."

"The admiral was also authorized to release, on parole, the surrendered officers of Nikolai, Orel, Agaxina and Sjogavin."

"Rojestvensky was taken to Sasebo Naval hospital. No other admiral was captured from the Bledovsky, the last report in this respect being due to a clerical error."

LUCK AGAINST HIM

Tokio, June 2.—A telegram from Sasebo says that Admiral Rojostvensky stated in an interview that he hoped to clear the Tsu Island in a fog, but a sudden northwest gale cleared the fog and revealed the presence of his fleet.

BLEW UP HIS SHIP.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—Official reports bearing on the naval battle are beginning to be received by the Emperor and Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral, the most important of these reports revealing the fate of the cruiser Izumrud, being a telegram from her captain, Baron Perzen, dated June 1, saying that he had blown up the cruiser at the entrance of Vladivostok Bay, and describing the battle.

The Baron says that before dark on May 1, the Orel, the Alexander III, and Borodino had been sunk, and that the Kniaz Souvaroff, the Kamchatka and the Orel had been seriously damaged, and were lost in sight.

The command then devolved on Rear Admiral Nebogatoff. In the evening the Nikolai, the Admiral Ouskakov, the Sissoi Veliky, the Naval, the Admiral Nakhimov, and the Izumrud sailed northeastward, the latter being charged to transmit orders to the battleships.

Two other cruisers were cut off from the fleet and were not again seen. The battleships, standing at 14 knots, were repeatedly attacked by Japanese torpedo boats. At dawn it was ascertained that the battleship division consisted of the Nikolai, the Orel, the Admiral Agaxina and the Admiral Sjogavin.

At sunrise, May 25, smoke from the Japanese ships reappeared on the horizon, whereupon the admiral gave orders for increased speed. The Admiral Sjogavin and the Admiral Agaxina dropped behind. Towards 10 o'clock a Japanese fleet appeared to the east, while the cruiser division maneuvered behind the Russians to starboard.

Baron Perzen's account continues:

"I was cut off from the squadron, and finding it impossible to rejoin it, resolved to make for Vladivostok. I put on full speed and the enemy's cruisers came on in pursuit. Owing to the insufficiency of my coal supply, and the certainty of meeting the enemy's cruisers, I subsequently altered my course for Vladivostok Bay, where I arrived on the night of May 29. At 10.30 o'clock next morning the Izumrud ran full on a reef at the entrance of the bay."

Having only ten tons of coal and seeing that it would be impossible to agitate float my vessel, I ordered the crew ashore and blew up the Izumrud to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy. Ten of my sailors were wounded in the battle, but the officers and rest of the crew were safe."

WORKMEN PARADED

AND WERE CHARGED BY TROOPS

Riots Continue in St. Petersburg—Repressive Measures Likely to be Enforced.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—Fifteen thousand workmen paraded the city Friday night singing revolutionary hymns and carrying red flags. They were charged by cossacks and mounted police. In the fight that ensued 52 workmen and 15 cossacks and police were injured and two horses killed. A conference of all the mayors in the Moscow district has been called for the purpose of requesting the government to consult the people on the continuance of the war, which according to all accounts the Czar insists on carrying to the bitter end. At another great demonstration which occurred Saturday in St. Petersburg at Pavlovsk gardens near Tsarkoe Selo 5,000 persons present clamored for the funeral march in memory of the Russian sailors who had lost their lives in the naval disaster. The orchestra became alarmed and fled when Novikoff, mayor of Baku, rose and said "Let us all by rising show respect for the victims, down with the war, we have had enough of blood." Eighty policemen entered and elbowed their way through the crowd to Novikoff when cries of "Let us attack the police" arose. Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword.

The police fled, but afterward returned with reinforcements and arrested the sturdy mayor. A very large number of people were injured in the melee, Russia has not weakened in her hour of disaster and stern measures of repression will be put into force.

TOOK TO THE TALL TIMBER

The Valuable C.P.R. Solicitor Fails to Address His Meeting in Woodstock.

Ottawa, June 5.—R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, failed to put in an appearance at the meeting in Woodstock on Saturday evening. Mr. Bennett has been campaigning in the constituency for a week, telling the people there that the Territories were on the eve of a revolution over the school question.

A meeting was called for Saturday evening in Woodstock to be addressed by Mr. Bennett. Hon. Mr. Oliver went down to Woodstock on Saturday to attend the meeting. Mr. Bennett did not appear, and the rousing reception given Mr. Oliver is admitted by the opposition press.

The city commissioners have given the contract for the paving of the street names on the corners of all the different streets in the city to the firm of Henderson & Co. The name plates will be of galvanized iron covered with three coats of paint and then the names neatly lettered upon them. They will be placed on corner fences when convenient, but in a great many instances goats will have to be erected and the plates placed upon them.

An interesting story, in many ways the best that these clever collaborators have produced. Its romantic and sympathetic treatment of a plot of unusual originality; the quickly shifting scene, from the active mystery of tropical India to the haunting spirit of the English downs; and the vivid personality of the characters, especially of its charming heroine, leave an impression that one will not soon forget. The illustrations are of special beauty.

Professor Bryce's Views

The Toronto Globe publishes the following interview with Prof. Bryce of Winnipeg, on the autonomy bills: Ottawa, May 27.—Professor George Bryce, LL.D., of Winnipeg, who has been in Ottawa attending the meeting of the Royal Society, of which he is a Fellow, was seen by a representative of the Globe, to whom he gave his views on the school question, as it appears to him in the West. Dr. Bryce is one of the best known educationalists in Canada. He is a distinguished graduate of the University of Toronto and of Knox College. Since 1871 he has been in active educational service in Winnipeg. He had to do with the foundation of Manitoba College and of the University of Manitoba. For many years he was head of the faculty of science in the university. He has been identified closely with the religious and missionary work of the Presbyterian Church, and three years ago was elected Moderator of the General Assembly. For men have travelled widely through Western Canada as written more extensively on its history and conditions. "Yes, I have just come from Winnipeg, and last week I was in Victoria on church business. I have very recently been in touch with all the provinces of the West. So far as I know—and I made it my business to inquire—there is no excitement or discontent over the educational clauses of the autonomy bills. When the bills were first introduced there was strong opposition to the original clauses. Our Presbytery of Winnipeg, a body of over sixty representatives, passed resolutions against them. But the changes made have very largely satisfied us. If these amendment clauses have not satisfactory, you know how strong we are on indignation meetings, and you would certainly have heard from us."

It was mentioned that Professor Bryce has been a strong advocate of purely public schools at the time of the Manitoba agitation. "Yes, I took a leading part in that discussion," said the professor. "I raised the question in a controversy between Archbishop Tache and myself as 'Veritas' in the press ten or twelve years before 1890, when our new act passed. The old Manitoba act was no doubt intended by some to fix church-governed separate schools upon us, but we found that it would not 'hold water,' and so we swept away the old system."

"Why then, are you not opposed to the educational clauses now proposed?" "The people are satisfied. 'Well, I find the people of the Territories satisfied with the present system of education. They have as near to a pure public school system as is workable in Canada. In Winnipeg city today, fifteen years after the passing of our act we have the Roman Catholics still dissatisfied. They are paying taxes towards the support of the public schools, and are maintaining separate schools of their own. This is undesirable. Then, sixty or seventy of these schools in country places, nominally public schools, and it is declared, being conducted as separate schools. This, again, is undesirable. Thus the Territories have practically a better working system of public schools, in so far as religious parties are concerned, than we have under our Manitoba public school system."

"But is not this a surrender of principle on your part?"

NOT PREPARED FOR SECULAR SCHOOLS.

"Not at all. A public school system—pure and simple—is impossible in Canada. Most of us believe in the principle of the separation of Church and State, but this if logically followed out, would make the public school a secular school. But logic is not everything. We as Presbyterians are not prepared for secular schools. In our deliberations we insist on liberty to have the Bible in our schools in the three Maritime provinces to yield this, in the 'John Knox' your we are stronger than ever on that point. Both in Manitoba and the Territories we have insisted on having the liberty of religious instruction in the so-called public school from 3.30 to 4 o'clock in the school day—of course with a conscience clause. This has been allowed. The so-called public school system exists in the three Maritime provinces because in the cities and towns, it allows the segregation of the Roman Catholics in public schools of their own—having only their own children and teachers of their own faith. This is a well-known working arrangement, though not sanctioned by law.

"It is because I am well acquainted with the Territories and their school system that I am confident that their method is the best yet devised for approximating to uniformity, and yet giving a certain diversity to allow for religious instruction and religious sentiment."

"But what about the charge of 'coercion'? We hear a good deal about it in Ontario."

"To me it is absurd. To my mind the only coercion in sight is that of a narrow-minded handful in Toronto who wish to coerce our western people into an agitation that is distasteful to them. There is a feeling of resentment in the west against the interference of those Toronto dictators. They may save themselves the trouble. The Dominion has outgrown the dictation of any one city or of any one clique. Please tell these Toronto agitators that if the western people do not know they are being coerced it is because there is no coercion."

"But isn't the Dominion fixing the terms for the people of the two new provinces?"

"No more than, in my judgment, it has the right to do," was Dr. Bryce's deliberate reply. "For more than thirty years in Manitoba I have advocated a 'united Canada' and a strong central authority. I want no 'Manitoba first,' no 'Ontario first,' or anything of the kind. I have advocated the 'Canadian idea' in my own province at times when it was unpopular to do so. This talk of 'provincial rights' is absurd. The doctrine of 'sovereign states' or 'sovereign provinces' is a Yankee notion, and is not British. It is inconsistent with a strong central executive. The late Sir John Macdonald very wisely called attention to this danger. There are federal rights and responsibilities as well as provincial."

THEORY OF THE CONSTITUTION. The true theory of the Canadian constitution," continued Prof. Bryce, "is that the Dominion is the repository of power, and that the provinces receive what is wise to bestow upon them. You cannot have a strong country if you allow every province to have its own 'sweet will' or pass laws which are inimical or threatening to the people of the whole. True, in one part of the British North America Act you have education classed as a provincial matter, but that is only as modified by other clauses of the act. It is, of course, well to carry the sense of the provision or of the locality in the passing of an act concerning education or any other subject. But in the case before us there is being done. The almost universal testimony is that the Territories want the continuation of their present school system. That has been formally expressed by the unanimous resolution of Hon. Mr. Oliver of Edmonton, and informally by the most influential men of the West. This temper on the part of the western people is of course discouraging to the educational doctrinaires who wish to dominate us with their notions."

"But why not let the people decide the matter in their own provinces?" "Well, because it is the duty of the Dominion to decide it. The Dominion for prudential reasons easy to name should not give up one iota of its responsibility in these new provinces. We want all Canada to pronounce upon this important question."

A FINE OF CONTENTION. "And, besides, to refer to the school question to the provinces themselves would be to throw a bone of contention into each new province. Leave the matter open and what would happen? The Roman Catholics would endeavor by legal process to obtain what they claim to have under the act of 1870, viz., Church-controlled schools. They would carry their case to the Privy Council. The people of the new provinces would certainly oppose their contention. Years of litigation and discussion would follow. We know what this means in Manitoba. This is what we in the west wish especially to avoid. To have a religious educational lawsuit for five or ten years would interfere with our plans of Canadianizing and establishing the great settlement of the Canadian west, with their hundreds of thousands of able frontiersmen."

"To have such a disturbing and divisive agency in our politics would be to uninvited exile, and would not only in hindering but a much poorer system of public schools than the now in satisfactory operation under the system which it is proposed to continue. You people in Ontario may worry yourselves about the western schools if you have no other political issue, but the people of the west need not be expected to give you any encouragement."

As there is now in Montreal a factory devoted exclusively to the manufacture of this machine, it can be bought in Canada for the same price at which it is sold in the U.S. without adding from $25 to $30 to cover duty and charges, as do all the other standard writers.

Colonists for Lloydminster

Winnipeg, May 30.—The Britannia colonists arrived here this morning 247 strong, in special train, after one of the pleasantest voyages ever made by immigrants from the Old Country to the Canadian Northwest. The trip throughout, in point of weather, steamboat and railway accommodation and arrangements, was in happy contrast with the memorable journey of the original Britannia, or Barr, colonists in the spring of 1903.

This contingent, the first big party to join the original British colonists in the Saskatchewan valley, will take up about 33 square miles of farming lands situated west, northwest and southwest of Lloydminster, the capital of the colony. The new comers, whilst not all strictly farmers have been accustomed to country and farm life, being drawn from the Midlands and the southeast of England, while one or two hail from the land of the heather and the Isle of the Shamrock. They are of the middle class and of middle age or under, with small families, though the dean of the party, John Stevens, of Plumstead, near Woodwich, has passed seventy-six gentle winters in the Old Country before braving the more verile Northwest season. He has weathered the journey in excellent style, and is happy with his son and grandsons.

The remainder of the journey to Lloydminster will also be of an altogether different sort from that experienced by the pioneers. Today's arrivals will travel to Battleford in the first passenger train to run over the new section of the main line of the C.N.R., just completed between Humboldt and Battleford. From this point they will have an overland trek of ninety miles, with private stopping places all along the route, as compared with the trek of 200 miles of the 1903 arrivals, with tents furnished by the government as the only shelter in a land yet covered with snow and hidden trails.

The party is in personal charge of Wm. Hutchinson, of Ridgeway farm, Lloydminster, an original member of the Barr expedition, and correspondent for the Sheffield Weekly Telegraph. He is assisted by R. B. Thompson.

The special train was transferred from the C.P.R. station this noon to the Canadian Northern depot, whence it will leave on its northwest trip this evening at 6.30 o'clock.

Canadian Railway Development

Railway development in Canada is progressing at a very rapid rate and this summer promises that many hundreds of miles of new roads will be built throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion. In every province with the exception of Prince Edward Island, construction work is going on or will be begun this season. Paramount importance is the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific which is expected to be begun in a month or so. The remainder of the construction work is chiefly on branch lines, but it will nevertheless give great activity to railroad building in Canada.

The largest mileage will undoubtedly be laid in Ontario. The C.P.R. is running a line through from Sudbury to Toronto, a distance of 127 miles, 60 of which have already been constructed. It is also building a line in Western Ontario known as the Guelph and Goderich Railway, the length of which will be eighty miles. Near London the Grand Trunk is doubletracking its main line to Sarnia, which means the laying of 35 miles of additional rails. Work is rapidly progressing on the remaining 100 miles of the Temiskaming and Ontario line, 113 miles of which has been completed. The Ottawa Valley Railway will be built along the border line between Ontario and Quebec, if present plans materialize. The line would be 116 miles in length. From Fort William north a distance of 200 miles, it is understood construction will go ahead on the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Quebec is to construct but a few miles of railway. For the Quebec and St. John railway a branch is to be built from near Quebec to near St. Life, a distance of about 70 miles. The Great Northern is also building about 35 miles of connections.

The C.P.R. intends building considerable track in British Columbia. A line is to be constructed from Spencer Bridge to Nicola Mines a distance of 45 miles. From Yonka, on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, a line will be pushed through to the International boundary line, a distance of 80 miles. Mr. J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern is running a road through from the Similkameen district to a point near the Pacific coast. Several short lines are in course of construction in Manitoba and the Territories. From Reston, the company is building northwesterly 60 miles. From Hayward it is also constructing northwesterly a 40 mile extension of the Pheasant Hill's branch. Another extension is being made of 50 miles from the branch running from Calgary to Edmonton. The Canadian Northern is constructing about 100 miles from Battleford to Edmonton.

In Nova Scotia approximately 350 miles of road will be built by the Halifax and Yarmouth Railway, and the Halifax and Southwestern Railway. Practically the only work which will be done in New Brunswick will be the construction of the International Railway from Campbellton to the border of Maine, a distance of 110 miles.

The total length of road to be under construction this year is nearly 2,000 miles which goes to prove that in so far as railway development is concerned Canada is very alert and progressive.

SPOKE IN CALGARY.

Among those who attended the annual banquet of the Calgary board of trade on Thursday evening last were Messrs. A. C. Rutherford, M. L. A., Strathcona and C. W. Cross, Edmonton. Mr. Rutherford replied to the toast of "Our Legislative Bodies" and Mr. Cross to that of "The Learned Professions." The Herald gives the following report of their speeches:— "A C. Rutherford, M. L. A., of Strathcona, was the next speaker. He prefaced his speech by alluding to the clean government under which the Territories had been administered. He congratulated the west on the fact that no charges of corruption had ever been hurled at members of the Territorial Assembly. Cheers greeted this statement. Continuing, the speaker expressed a hope that the new government would be able to maintain this standard. This sentiment also provoked applause.

Alluding to the national government, Mr. Rutherford said it was proper for the opposition to criticize the administration, for by criticism and analysis the country secured purer government.

"In closing the speaker said the energy of the Calgary board of trade was most praiseworthy, and its good work was being felt in remote places in Alberta.

C. W. Cross, of Edmonton followed. He assured the gentlemen that he was not present to represent Edmonton, but since he was called upon he desired to say what he could for his city. He warned Calgary that while the two big cities were fighting for capital honors some other and smaller place would carry away the capital.

The speaker asserted that Edmonton was proud of Calgary's progress; that she had become the commercial centre of the Territories. This would stimulate Edmonton, and the people of the north only hoped to equal Calgary in the next few years to come. In conclusion, Mr. Cross invited the board of trade at some future time to visit Edmonton and inspect the capital buildings.

THE C. & E. RIGHT OF WAY

Plaindealer: The effect on Strathcona of the C. & E. R. right of way, from the C. & E. line, to the high level bridge site, according to the plans filed last week, is being discussed extensively by citizens. The general opinion appears to be that of satisfaction. A few valuable properties will be damaged to some extent, but the fact is that the present station site will not be interfered with in any way, hence the value of business properties will not be injuriously affected, and in fact their present values will be enhanced by the permanence of the station. Most of the properties crossed have no buildings on them, and doubtless in all cases the company will make satisfactory settlement with the property holders, for damages sustained. There has been a suggestion that the company might be persuaded to utilize Royal avenue for the run west from the main line, and thus do less damage to residential interests. The suggestion is worthy of consideration and if possible from an engineering point of view might be regarded with favor by the company. It is a question, however, whether such a plan would meet with greater favor from property holders, than the one filed.

NO DIFFERENCE.

No distinction is made as to the kind of Piles that Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cures. The names Internal, External, Bleeding, Blind, Itching, Suppurating, etc., are simply names of the different stages through which every case will pass if it continues long enough.

Piles are caused by congestion, or stagnation of blood in the lower bowel, and it takes an internal remedy to remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet taken internally.

It is a permanent cure, and no case of Piles has ever been found to fail to cure. Money back if it does.

FARMER SUICIDES

DESPONDENT OVER ILL-HEALTH

Kildonan Farmer Terminates Life With a Shot Gun.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Joseph Robert Wallace deliberately blew his brains out Saturday evening in his farm house in Kildonan, a few miles out of Winnipeg. He locked himself in his bed room, took his shot-gun and placed the stock between his feet and the muzzle in his mouth, pulled the trigger with his toes. The whole charge of shot entered his skull and remained there. He came from Brampton about 12 years ago, and leaves a mother, a sister, and brother in Sarnia, Ont. Another brother Samuel resides in Winnipeg. He had been suffering from kidney troubles for about two months and was not getting better and it is thought this preyed on his mind. There will be no inquest.

A Hint to the Farmers.

The Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture, writes as follows regarding grain fires:

There has been a tendency during recent years to become careless regarding the precautions to be observed before starting a fire for the purpose of clearing stubble, brush or grass from the land and the result is extensive fires, through which heavy losses have been sustained by farmers and ranchers. Such fires are greatly to be deplored as they have a serious effect on the vegetation, climate and prosperity of the country. Loss fires more trees; more trees less drought, and a more equable climate. Millions of dollars and years of time have been spent in the endeavor to reforest areas from which timbers have been wastefully or carelessly removed. There is an inclination amongst some of the farmers in the northern districts to view with disfavor the rapid growth of the willow, which is popular during the recent periods of wet seasons, and a wish to destroy this scrub by letting fires go through it. The attention of such persons is called to Section 4 of The Prairie Fires Ordinance which reads as follows:

"No person shall, directly or indirectly, personally or by any servant, agent or employee, kindle on any land, a fire for the purpose of guarding property, burning stubble or brush or clearing land unless the land on which the fire is started is, at the time it is started, completely surrounded by a fireguard not less than twenty feet in width consisting of land covered with snow or water or so soon, graded, ploughed, burned over or covered with water as to be free of inflammable matter, and any person kindling a fire for such purpose shall, during the whole period of its continuance cause it to be guarded by three adult persons provided with proper appliances for extinguishing prairie fires."

"Any person contravening this section shall be guilty of an offence and be liable on summary conviction thereof to a penalty not exceeding $100."

"Highly to be commended is the work of the R. N. W. M. Police at their recent investigation of fires south of Calgary, where within two months, fifteen persons have been fined a total of $450 and costs, in addition a civil suit is in progress against one of the parties for $400 damages. It should be noted that even when the prescribed precautions have been taken when starting a fire a person is not free from action for damages should others suffer loss from its spreading.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES
SOMETHING NEW AND IS DE-

Mr. M. N. Dafoe

Mr. M. N. Dafoe, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says: "I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies with only temporary relief, if any at all, but since using Anti-Pill I can eat anything the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find they regulate both stomach and bowels. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unhopful experience I am in duty bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

Every druggist sells Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill, or a sample will be sent free by The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured Mr. Dafoe so completely is surely worth a trial. 502

WATERWORKS CONTRACT LET

Plumbers: Last evening after three special sessions, the town council of Strathcona awarded to Messrs. Deltz and Maine, of this town, the contract for excavation, pipe laying and refilling for the water works and sewerage system. The contract price is $51,130. There were six tenders with the following figures in round numbers:

Fry & Peck	$50,000
Whitman	49,800
Pike & Co.	50,000
St. Clair & Everett	50,000
Taylor & McLennan	48,700
Deltz & Maine	51,130

The tender of Taylor & McLennan was withdrawn before the voting. While there were two other tenders lower than the one accepted, they were from outsiders and it was the policy of the council to patronize home contractors. It could be done without sacrifice to the general interests of the town. It was considered that Messrs. Deltz & Maine were reliable men with established interests here and the difference between their tender and the lowest was not great.

The work will go forward now as rapidly as possible, and three miles of the system are to be laid this season. Contracts for the pipes have not yet been let. The council met again tonight to deliberate upon these matters.

Calgary Wants Gas

Herald: Mr. Dingman's proposition to the city council was read to this committee last night by that gentleman, and copies given them to peruse at leisure before the next meeting, which is called for Friday night.

The proposal did not leave very much for Mr. Dingman to say, though it was not unnecessarily long. His principle work was to answer questions propounded by the committee, which he did very clearly.

The possibility of the corporation taking up the work was discussed from various standpoints. It was feared the ratifiers would object to voting any money on such an uncertain proposition. The proposition does not state definitely at present what the price shall be for the gas found, that portion of the line being left blank and is one of the questions to be arranged. The figures will probably be the same as mentioned by Mr. Dingman before the city council, 25c. per 1,000 feet for lighting, and 15c. for heating purposes.

The opinion of Mr. Dingman is that the well will have to go down 3,000 feet. If the company and the city came to an agreement, the former are to have five years in which to locate gas in paying quantities, if not, their privileges are to be forfeited.

If the company strikes gas within four years they ask for privileges extending over fifteen years. An arbitration clause fixes after ten years as the time at which the plant could be taken over by the city at 10 per cent. increase over the then value of the plant.

In the meantime the position of past, present and future gas companies is being discussed. For the past there is the old Calgary Gas and Water Power Company's right to bore for natural gas. That is said to have expired, as their allotted four years have elapsed. There is the present gas company's rights also to be considered. Mr. Dingman is also said to have acquired whatever rights the former natural gas company possessed.

All these points have different phases which give the man on the street ample opportunity to draw his own conclusions.

Dollar Bills the Interesting Kind

Toronto Globe: The Rev. G. M. Milligan, D.D., LL.D., preached at Old St. Andrew's Church yesterday after his recent visit to the west. At the evening service he took as his text Ephesians II, 15: "Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances: to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace." In the course of his remarks he said the decadence of any country for its unification was upon the Gospel. As his hearers were aware, he had been away to the western land. His visit was worth the long journey ten times over, for he was glad to say in the new land there were elements for unification. In the reception of the Gospel. It was a young land, and had the characteristics of youth in that it was hopeful. In the west everything was unformed, there was no sinking for form; perhaps there was not form enough, and yet it was an advantage. He had been asked what people out there thought of the autonomy bill. Well, he did not know that they thought much about it; indeed, he did not know that they thought much about any bills except dollar bills. [Laughter.]

A Good Pamphlet.

The pamphlet recently issued by the Edmonton board of trade seems to be considered effective immigration literature. The Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg in a recent letter to the secretary of the board says: "I beg to acknowledge receipt of a booklet issued by your board of trade, entitled 'Fertility and Prosperity' and to say that we admire the sample very much, and think we can with profit to your city and district distribute a number of them."

Col. A. D. Davidson, president of the Saskatchewan Valley and Manitoba Land Co., who are handling Canadian Northern Railway land and immigration business, writes: "I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of a number of pamphlets 'Fertility and Prosperity'; I have read this pamphlet over with a great deal of interest. You are certainly to be congratulated on getting out such an attractive piece of advertising. I am glad to see your board of trade take such an active interest in the development of your district. Similar activity on the part of other boards of trade throughout the west would result in spreading a great deal of information which would be bound to result in increased immigration. We will be glad to use these pamphlets whenever we have an opportunity to do so."

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CASE.

Here is Something that will be Welcome News to Many a Discouraged One.

WILLIAM H. REED.
"Of late my food did not digest properly. It turned sour in my stomach, causing me great distress; often, too, I had disagreeable attacks of belching gas and heartburn. I was bothered with severe pains across the small of my back and the least bending or turning would cause me to almost cry out. I was induced to try Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill and from the very first found relief."

"For the last three months I have had no recurrence of my former complaints, so I am bound to say Anti-Pill has indeed cured me."

This is the voluntary statement of Wm. H. Reed, of 165 Queen St., Kingston, Ont. All Druggists sell Anti-Pill. The Wilson-Pyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. The remedy that cured such an extreme case is surely worth trying.
